To help accommodate the flexibility of summer schedules, students will be able to work at their own pace as long as they finish within the three-week period and submit certain time-sensitive assignments on schedule. Due dates for all coursework will be posted on ReggieNet on the first day of class.

*Textbook Information
The ISU instructor will contact each student with textbook information, by email, upon enrollment into the class.

In order to complete these online courses, you should be familiar with accessing information via the Internet, uploading and downloading files, and participating in threaded discussions. During the courses, you will be creating documents in Word and PowerPoint in addition to using ReggieNet to access course materials. You must be familiar with the software in order to complete the assignments. The computer you use should have a broadband connection rather than a dial-up modem.

* These classes are required by ISBE for teachers to be qualified as coordinators for a cooperative vocational education program and/or a work-based learning program. The classes will provide you with information that can be used in the classroom.
